

Learning through Play

You are invited to get involved in this project to enhance your understanding of play and the Early Years Learning Framework! This day will provide an opportunity for you to develop a deeper and broader understanding of play, make connections between play, practice and the Early Years Learning Framework and provides an opportunity for you to find out about participating in an ongoing professional development project about learning through play.

with Sue Grieshaber and Melinda Miller

Sue Grieshaber's research interests include early childhood curriculum, policy, gender and families, with a focus on equity and diversity. She has published widely in a range of areas that reflect her research interests and co-edits the international, refereed online journal Contemporary Issues in Early Childhood. She is on the editorial board of the Australian Journal of Early Childhood, the Asia-Pacific Journal of Research in Early Childhood Education and is a consulting editor for the Early Childhood Research Quarterly. She has strong international links and has taught, published and presented with a variety of colleagues from overseas universities.

Melinda Miller is a lecturer in early childhood education at QUT. Her research and publication interests include professional development, social justice and inclusive education. Melinda has previously conducted two action research projects with childcare professionals in the Brisbane area.
