

3-part series ON

EMERGENT CURRICULUM

through emerging collaboration

Saturday 14 June
Saturday 19 July
Saturday 9 August

This three part series will equip participants with current information and ideas on how to work with an Emergent Curriculum. These 'hands on' sessions will have participants engaging in self reflective practices to deepen their understanding of their work and its relationship to their environment. It will also assist participants on how to develop their own program.

DIRECTORS, GROUP LEADERS AND ASSISTANTS ENCOURAGED

PLEASE NOTE TWO VENUES

These sessions will provide insight into:

- Understanding the importance of designing a creative, supportive environment;
- How to design rooms to support an Emergent Curriculum;
- How to support meaningful projects for children and document it;
- Providing a connection between documentation and children's project work through the use of rich and powerful documentation methods to meet Accreditation requirements and;
- Will conclude with a centre visit to see how this 'project approach' is being implemented

presented by
CARRIE ROSE

Carrie Rose has a passion for early childhood programming and has been delivering an 'Innovative Programming' workshop for the past three years. Her experience in early childhood is extensive including being the director of child care centres, director of consultancy and co-ordinating Southbank Institute of TAFE Children's Services team. She was previously the Director of the QUT Student Guild Child Care Centre – Gardens Point campus and developed a highly recognised 0 – 5 year olds Multi Age Project Approach Program. She attended the Reggio Emilia study tour in 2000 which she believes was the most inspirational professional development she has ever attended.
