The sessions will focus on how children may use behaviours as a form of communication and ways to possibly incorporate this into the day to day work of the educator and what to draw on in making use of the behaviours for observations. We will look at what might be being communicated by the particular behaviour of a child, how children may be 'over pathologised' based on other information, and how we as adults may respond to different children and their behaviours.

WITH PETER MELROSE

Peter Melrose runs a private practice with clients throughout Queensland and Victoria and has worked in the child and family welfare sector since 1989. He has held senior positions in both Government and Non-government organisations across a number of jurisdictions and states. Peter is a regular speaker at national and international child and family welfare and child protection conferences, and has written a number of journal articles on topics ranging from child and family therapeutic approaches, through to working respectfully with clients and children and young people in care.

NOTE: Peter will be returning to the region throughout the year to run a selection of workshops with a FOCUS ON BEHAVIOUR watch out for:

- 'The difficult task of having challenging conversations with families'
- 'Reflecting on your services approach and beliefs on children's behaviour'
- 'School aged behaviour workshop—Aimed at 5-12 age group (OSHC)'
- The difficult task of having challenging conversations with families—Aimed at 5-12 age group (OSHC)'

Peter will also be offering directors and coordinators some follow up phone support between workshops!
