

Together for Humanity

Cross Cultural Training Day 2010

You are invited to a free, one day professional Development workshop to learn about the work of Together for Humanity in Queensland. See how our schools' program works, develop your skills in cross-cultural and interfaith dialog and make new friends. The skills you learn and contacts you make can assist your work in your own organizations and communities. This professional development day is suitable for government representatives, organizations dealing with diverse communities and educators. All participants will receive a certificate of attendance.
